The Village Health Clubs & Spas To Host The “TGen Cycle for the Cure” Help support TGen’s cutting-edge research to cure cancer on Sunday, May 3

Who: Pedal pushers, bike riders, yoga enthusiasts, and anyone else looking to get fit for a good cause.

What: On Sunday, May 3, 2015, The Village Health Clubs & Spas in Phoenix, Scottsdale, and Chandler will be hosting the “TGen Cycle for the Cure,” a pedal-powered fundraiser benefiting TGen’s cancer research. To join, simply register for the ride at your local Village location, sign up for Yoga/Kinesis class at Camelback, or sign up for a virtual ride, which is doing any activity on your own, while raising money for cancer research. Also, The Gainey Village location will be offering specific fitness classes on Saturday, May 2nd that will be also accepting donations.

As you pedal with others, you’ll be inspired and energized by your shared mission. It’s a 2-hour heart pumping cycling event that will fund groundbreaking research with life changing results. 100% of the money raised supports cancer research in Arizona. And you won’t want to miss the Post-Ride Party because there is nothing like a big “cool down” after a hard ride! This celebration, hosted by Camelback Village, will feature cool refreshments, small bites, beer, wine, and live music by Nate Nathan and the MacDaddy-O’s Band. (Free for all riders. $20 donation for guests.) DC Ranch and Gainey Village will have a celebration immediately following their rides and are encouraged to come to the celebration at Camelback as well. For more information visit your local Village Health Club location, or www.tgenfoundation.org/cycle.

Also on Sunday, May 3, the Camelback Village Health Club & Spa will host Yoga for a Cure as a tribute to David Oliver. The class will begin at 3:30 pm for an $80 donation in memory of Oliver, the late father of instructor John Salisbury.

When: The TGen Cycle for the Cure will be held on Sunday, May 3, 2015 at the Gainey Village (8 am), the DC Ranch Village (10 am) and the Camelback Village (3 pm). The Gainey location will also offer fundraising fitness classes on Saturday, May 2, 2015!
